Live sound mixing is the blending of multiple sound sources by an audio engineer using a mixing console or software. Sounds that are mixed include those from instruments and voices which are picked up by microphones (for drum kit, lead vocals and acoustic instruments like piano or saxophone and pickups for instruments such as electric bass) and pre-recorded material, such as songs on CD or a ...

In sound recording and reproduction, and sound reinforcement systems, a mixing console is an electronic device for combining sounds of many different audio signals. Inputs to the console include microphones being used by singers and for picking up acoustic instruments, signals from electric or electronic instruments, or recorded music. Depending on the type, a mixer is able to control analog ...

FORCES . A force is any push or pull that causes an object to move, stop, or change speed or direction.; The greater the force, the greater the change in motion will be. The more massive an object, the less effect a given force will have on the object.; Unless acted on by a force, objects in motion tend to stay in motion and objects at rest remain at rest.
