A style guide (or manual of style) is a set of standards for the writing and design of documents, either for general use or for a specific publication, organization, or field. (It is often called a style sheet, though that term has other meanings.). A style guide establishes and enforces style to improve communication. To do that, it ensures consistency within a document and across multiple ...

Hi Great website. Just a couple of points re Hattie's top-ten. No2: Although you have correctly described Piagetian Programs, the research Hattie cites only refers to the fact that if you assess students using a Piagetian test of thinking level (not on the topic), and then give them a subject/topic test, there is a close correlation.

What is Parallelism? Parallelism is the successive use of identical grammatical patterns of words, phrases, or sentences. Sound boring? Wait – don't give up yet! Parallelism may involve repetition of some words, but more generally involves repetition of parts of speech (e.g. nouns, verbs, adjectives). It is sometimes referred to as parallel structure or parallel construction.
